

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH PACIFIC SCHOOL OF DISTANCE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM

TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM: Aims and Objectives
The aim of the Teacher Education Program is to prepare graduates to be effective and ethical teachers in the Pacific region. The program is designed to provide students with the knowledge, skills, and attitudes necessary to meet the needs of diverse learners in a multicultural and multilingual context.

The program is structured to provide students with a strong foundation in education theory and practice. It includes a range of courses that cover the following areas:

Education Theory and Practice
This area covers the theoretical and practical aspects of education, including the role of the teacher, the curriculum, and the learning process.

Professional Skills and Attitudes
This area focuses on the development of the professional skills and attitudes necessary for effective teaching. This includes communication skills, classroom management, and the ability to work collaboratively with colleagues and parents.

Research and Evaluation
This area provides students with the skills and knowledge necessary to conduct research and evaluate educational practice. This includes the design and implementation of research projects, and the analysis and interpretation of research data.
