

Q1: How do you think the economic situation will be in the next few years?
A: The economic situation is expected to be relatively stable, but there are some risks of a recession. The government should take measures to stimulate the economy and reduce the risk of a recession.