

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON THE HISTORY OF THE MIDDLE EAST

CONFERENCE PROGRAMME: The International Conference on the History of the Middle East, organized by the British Association for Middle Eastern Studies, will be held at the University of Cambridge, Cambridge, England, from 10 to 14 September 1984. The conference will be held in the historic city of Cambridge, which is one of the most beautiful and historic cities in the world. The conference will be held in the historic city of Cambridge, which is one of the most beautiful and historic cities in the world. The conference will be held in the historic city of Cambridge, which is one of the most beautiful and historic cities in the world.

The International Conference on the History of the Middle East, organized by the British Association for Middle Eastern Studies, will be held at the University of Cambridge, Cambridge, England, from 10 to 14 September 1984. The conference will be held in the historic city of Cambridge, which is one of the most beautiful and historic cities in the world. The conference will be held in the historic city of Cambridge, which is one of the most beautiful and historic cities in the world. The conference will be held in the historic city of Cambridge, which is one of the most beautiful and historic cities in the world.

The International Conference on the History of the Middle East, organized by the British Association for Middle Eastern Studies, will be held at the University of Cambridge, Cambridge, England, from 10 to 14 September 1984. The conference will be held in the historic city of Cambridge, which is one of the most beautiful and historic cities in the world. The conference will be held in the historic city of Cambridge, which is one of the most beautiful and historic cities in the world. The conference will be held in the historic city of Cambridge, which is one of the most beautiful and historic cities in the world.

