

INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF APPLIED SCIENCES INSTITUTIONAL POLICY ON SUPPORTING RESEARCH AND TEACHING

International University of Applied Sciences (IU) is committed to supporting research and teaching activities of its faculty members. This policy outlines the university's commitment to providing resources, infrastructure, and support for research and teaching activities.

International University of Applied Sciences (IU) is committed to supporting research and teaching activities of its faculty members. This policy outlines the university's commitment to providing resources, infrastructure, and support for research and teaching activities.

International University of Applied Sciences (IU) is committed to supporting research and teaching activities of its faculty members. This policy outlines the university's commitment to providing resources, infrastructure, and support for research and teaching activities.

International University of Applied Sciences (IU) is committed to supporting research and teaching activities of its faculty members. This policy outlines the university's commitment to providing resources, infrastructure, and support for research and teaching activities.

International University of Applied Sciences (IU) is committed to supporting research and teaching activities of its faculty members. This policy outlines the university's commitment to providing resources, infrastructure, and support for research and teaching activities.