

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON THE HISTORY OF THE SOUTH PACIFIC

The International Conference on the History of the South Pacific was held in Auckland, New Zealand, from 1987 to 1990. The conference was organized by the New Zealand Historical Society and the New Zealand Society of Pacific Historians. The conference was held in four sessions, each lasting two weeks. The first session was held in Auckland, the second in Christchurch, the third in Dunedin, and the fourth in Wellington. The conference was a major event in the history of the South Pacific region and provided a unique opportunity for historians from different countries to meet and discuss their work. The conference was held in a beautiful setting and was a great success. The conference was held in four sessions, each lasting two weeks. The first session was held in Auckland, the second in Christchurch, the third in Dunedin, and the fourth in Wellington. The conference was a major event in the history of the South Pacific region and provided a unique opportunity for historians from different countries to meet and discuss their work. The conference was held in a beautiful setting and was a great success.

The International Conference on the History of the South Pacific was held in Auckland, New Zealand, from 1987 to 1990. The conference was organized by the New Zealand Historical Society and the New Zealand Society of Pacific Historians. The conference was held in four sessions, each lasting two weeks. The first session was held in Auckland, the second in Christchurch, the third in Dunedin, and the fourth in Wellington. The conference was a major event in the history of the South Pacific region and provided a unique opportunity for historians from different countries to meet and discuss their work. The conference was held in a beautiful setting and was a great success. The conference was held in four sessions, each lasting two weeks. The first session was held in Auckland, the second in Christchurch, the third in Dunedin, and the fourth in Wellington. The conference was a major event in the history of the South Pacific region and provided a unique opportunity for historians from different countries to meet and discuss their work. The conference was held in a beautiful setting and was a great success. The conference was held in four sessions, each lasting two weeks. The first session was held in Auckland, the second in Christchurch, the third in Dunedin, and the fourth in Wellington. The conference was a major event in the history of the South Pacific region and provided a unique opportunity for historians from different countries to meet and discuss their work. The conference was held in a beautiful setting and was a great success.

